II. OTHER ACTIVITIES

1. On Tuesday, 10 April 62, [REDACTED] attended a meeting with [REDACTED], where a representative of [REDACTED] discussed plans for presenting a course in lip reading-a new commo system to be used in clandestine services operations. (Weekly Report #13, Item 5). Tentative plans are for both live and film presentation, beginning about 23 April and continuing about one hour per day for a month. The course probably will be in Russian; any OTR personnel who speak Russian would be welcome in the course. Knowledge of Russian is not essential and any interested personnel probably will be able to attend, but for experimental purposes, the greatest need is for Russian speaking personnel.

Bill raised at staff meet.

Another meeting of the same people is planned for 18 April.

2. [REDACTED] work on programmed learning on 9 April. He was favorably impressed with the work [REDACTED] has done to date, and had no suggestions or recommendations as to how to proceed differently. He will refer to Jack any new information that he obtains in the field as he comes across it in his regular activities.

3. [REDACTED] was introduced to [REDACTED] of the CI Staff on 9 April. [REDACTED] briefed [REDACTED] on his requirements for the [REDACTED] assessment.

4. [REDACTED] will be on TDY for three days next week for separate projects for SR/ [REDACTED]
